HOPES FOR ELECTION OF SMITH OR WATSON

Either Event Will Be Termed Repudiation of Democratic Party on the Part of Georgia.

Washington, D. C., September 7.— The republican national campaign committee is closely watching the primary in Georgia tomorrow and arrangements have been made for bulletins to the headquarters here throughout the night after the close Chairman Hayes and his close advisers are particularly interested in the primary election of el-ther Senator Hoke Smith or Thomas E. Watson for the United States senate. In either event it will be regarded as a repudiation of the national democratic party, and its San Francisco platform, and will be used by the epublican organi zation as campaign propaganda throughout the United States.

The republican committee would perhaps rather see Smith nominated than Watson, as he is already a member of the senate, and his record in abetting Senator Lodge in the passage of his reservations to the peace treaty is well known by every republican leader in Ameri-

Headquarters of Candidate Claim That His Election Is Certain in the First Primary.

After the most careful and con servative of surveys, headquarters for Clifford Walker, candidate for governor, last night expressed absolute confidence that he would be elected in the first primary.

A few weeks ago it was feared that a second election might be necessary, on account of the split of the loyal democrat vote between recent developments clearly show that the voters of the state have seen beyond doubt that Walker is by far the strongest man in the field to defeat Hardwick. As this consummation is the greatest objective of the race, supporters of other loyal candidates are letting personal feelings drop and are uniting in a vast majority of the coun-

Chicago, September 7 .- Edmond H. The testimony was finished, but its presentation They have been told to do so. caused a stormy session of the committee.

Senatorial traditions as to courtesy were strained to the breaking point on several occasions, as republican and democratic members wrangled over the value of the evidence and at one stage, just before adjournment, Mr. Moore started to leave the stand, exclaiming that Senator Spencer, republican, of Misquestioning the authenticity of a effcular letter which he had offer-ed as furnishing a lead to further supporting Cox and Roosevelt in November. Every socialist, every destructionist, every fanatic, every man ob sessed with a governmental grouch, will go to the polls today and vote for Thomas E. Watson and Thomas W. Hardwick.

In Atlanta, in particular, there are secret political organizations ome of them are ostensibly anti-papal, others are "anti" everything on general principles. There are hundreds of good and thoughtful men who belong to them. They can be depended upon to vote conservatively. They will not be led to the ballot boxes by a decree of a handful of so-called "leaders" who would prostitute good purposes, perhaps, to gratify selfish ambitions or the machine-building procliv ities of certain individuals.

And yet the fact remains that secret, dark-alley ballots have been prepared, on which are the names of Watson and Hardwick, because these men serve the purposes of these secret, mysterious "shepherds," more than any of the upstanding and outstanding candidates who oppose them; and thousands of the less thoughtful will vote for them.

I am not writing this in the interest of Dorsey, or Smith, or Walker, or Holder, but to put the conservative, serirous-minded, thinking and unselfish citizenry of Atlanta, particularly, on notice that if there was ever a time in the history of Georgia, since the dark days of reconstruction, when duty impelled prompt and militant action at the ballot boxes—that time is now—this very day.

Every voter in Fulton county, and everywhere in Georgia, who believes in the ideals of a democratic government; in the constructive policies that have made America great; in correct living, and correct council meeting of the league, to souri. had intimated forgery by thinking, and correct administration of the affairs of our state and country, then, in the name of God, be on the firing line today-just one day that may save Georgia and Georgians.

The threat of "Watsonism" is the most menacing situation that has confronted this state in a half century. It is a red flag at our jority of the ballots cast, very doors.

BEN HILL FOR DORSEY. PREDICTION OF GELDERS

Fitzgerald, Ga., September 7 .-(Special.)—Hoke Smith's friends have been trying to work a combination with the Dorsey men in Ben Hill county, realizing that the senator has no chance to win here without the aid of the governor's supporters. It has some time that the governor is the strongest man in the senatorial race and the proposal that they combine on Senator Smith did not interest them at all. No trade has been made here

Isadore Gelders, editor of The Fitzgerald Leader - Enterprise, says that Ben Hill county looks safe for Governor Dorsey. Gelders' telegram to Dorsey's Atlanta headquarters fol-

At the close of the campaign on Tuesday night the headquarters of Governor Hugh Dorsey expressed renewed confidence that the battle had been won, and that Dersey would easily lead the field today for the United States senate.

Reports from many sections of the state, including the tier of counties along the Tennessee boundary, as well as from Ware, Lowndes, Toombs and Decatur, in the wiregrass, and Chatham, Glynn and Camden, on the coast, showed conclusively, according to the Dorsey management, that the tide against both Thomas E. Watson and Senator Hoke Smith was not only running strong in sections, but genera ally throughout the state, from the mountains to the sea.

Governor Dorsey closed his campaign at Griffin, where he was accorded the second ovation of the day, his speech at Lawrenceville, in Gwinnett, county, during the forenoon having attracted one of the CANARDS. Telegrams from several quarters were received at headquarters citing instances of last-minute canards on the part of candidate organizations, among them particularly being reports of alleged concentrations on Smith to defeat Watson, but all of these were quickly traced, ascertained to be the usual eleventh hour methods of foraging what is known as the "band wagon vote," and as promptly denounced. There were a number of Dorsey speakers in the field Tuesday, Colo nel Ed Griffin, Major Patton, Aldine Chambers and many others speak ing at various points in the state to large audiences. All of these speakers report that the Dorsey sentiment is sweeping, and the general impression prevails, they say, that Dorsey is the only candidate who can defeat Thomas E. Watson. Early Tuesday considerable Smith money was alleged to be in the Kimball lobby on Smith-as against Dorsey in today's primary, but all offered was quickly covered. Following this came a flood of Dorsey money, one man, Freeman Herring, appearing on the scene with $3,000 n currency to bet on Dorsey against the field, the alleged Smith bettors, it was found, had disappeared.

Clearing Up Details. In the Dorsey headquarters the manager, submanager and clerks spent the day clearing up the details for the voting today throughout the state, and it is doubtful if any candidate ever had a more complete and militant system of county organizations.

County managers were put on their guard about last-minute Smith propaganda, and warned against "trade" decoys, and other tricks to catch the unsuspecting.

No campaign in the history of Georgia has been more conservatively and honorably handled than that behind Hugh M. Dorsey in this race for the senate. In keeping with the governor's own clean, upstanding offical and public record, the contest in his interest has been waged along high-class, commendable lines, free from any vestige of political trickery or. demagoguery.

That Governor Dorsey will either go over the top today or have a safe lead in the second primary against Watson there appears to be no longer any doubt, and at no hour in the campaign have his managers been more keenly assured of that

Among the hundreds of letters that reached Dorsey headquarters yesterday from every section of can nomination for state treasurer Georgia the following is significant in that it shows one of the methods employed to fool the voters of Georgia:

Letter From Midville.

"Hon. Hugh Dorsey, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: The people of Midville call my attention to a letter published in the Sunday issue of The Atlanta Georgian, written by Mr. H. L. Smith, of Emanuel county, and signed Midville, Ga.

We are proud to say that we have but a very small per cent of the element that supports the "Toms," and our citizens would feel disgraced for life if they thought the rest of the people of Georgia had the slightest idea that our good town was made up of a Tom Watson and Tom Hardwick ele-

CLOSE CONTESTS IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, September 7.-Very close contests for the democratic nomination for governor and for the republican nominations for lieutenant governor and secretary of state marked the state primaries today The fact that women were voting for the first time gave election officials many puzzles in trying to determinate whether ballots marked in many ways not strictly according to the requirements were valid. This, together with sticker voting made the counting slow.

At midnight, with about one-third of the state heard from, including cities and towns in all sections, State Senator John J. Walsh was leading Richard H. Long, democratic nominee for governor in the last two years, by a slight margin for this year's nomination. Returns from 436 precincts including Boston, out of 1,205 in the state gave Long 21,946; Walsh, 22,740.

James Jackson, who ran on stickers, appeared to have a safe lead for the republican nomination for state treasurer, 200 Boston precincts and 215 outside giving him 22,998. Fred J. Burrell, who reently resigned as state treasurer and asked his friends not to vote for him for renomination, had 10,-105. Frederick Kerr, who also ran on stickers, had only 1,961.

In an eight-cornered contest in the Tenth district, Congressman Peter F. Tague was renominated by the democrats with a vote of 6,402 to 5,595 for his nearest opponent, Joseph J. Hurley. emocrats nominated Alfred J. JAPANESE-AMERICAN

BIBB COMMISSIONERS RAISE COUNTY TAX RATE

Macon. Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—Bibb county's tax rate was increased one and a half mills, today, making the total 14.5 mills, which is expected to bring the county a total of $741,203.18 in revenue. In addition to the county rate of 14.5 mills, there is an additional tax of 5 mills for the state, making the total of state and county taxes $19.50 on every thousand dollars. total of state and county taxes $19.50 on every thousand dollars. $19.50 on every thousand dollars.

The county commissioners' claim the increase in the rate was necessary because of the increased appropriation of $127,000 for public schools, the total school appropriation for '1920 being $319,965,94. The superior court was also given an increased appropriation of $23,000 for additional judge for this circuit and for paying jurors.

The tax digest this year shows returns of $45,048,495, an increase of almost $8,000,000 over last year.

Fight Against "Toms." The American Legion's fight has been based on the high principles of Americanism and patriotism, and has never been diverted from those principles. The legion has not indorsed any candidate and will not indorse any candidate in this race, but stands squarely on its platform of loyalty in its fight against Watson and Hardwick, the two disloyal candidates.

The American Legion's fight for the high principles for which it stands culminated last night in mass meetings in every town in the state of Georgia in which American Legion posts are located.

The state commander, A. L. Henson, spoke in Rome to the combined posts of Floyd county on Tuesday night. Basil Stockbridge, former state commander, spoke to Georgia in which American Legion posts are located.

General Obregon is a highly cultured gentleman. He was educated in the United States, has extensive property interests in New Mexico and southern California; and his admiration and respect for our own country and government is one of his distinguishing characteristics.

It is one of his primary purposes, according to his own repeated utterances, to promote, to the fullest extent of his capabilities as president of Mexico, goodwill, co-operation and cordial relationships between his country and ours.

The Mexican people are to be felicitated upon his election; and solidated in the organic law of the United States.

NOT LIFE-BUT LIVING. NOT LIFE—BUT LIVING.

Life does not hang heavy on the one who is interested more in living than in life merely.

I sometimes think of death as something that is worked TOWARD. For we are all traveling toward it daily—whether we think of it or not. But to think of it as something to be feared or avoided (which is impossible) is to burn up the precious years that are ours.

National Civic Federation Asks Candidates to Go on Record, and Urges Deportation of Thomas W. Hardwick's Client as the First Important Step.

By JAMES A. HOLLOMON.

Of peculiar interest to Georgians, who go to the ballot box today to elect their next governor and United States senator, is the fol owing from The New York Journal of Commerce of September 4, in which is pointed out the impera tive necessity in this country of campaigns against bolshevism. The National Civic Federation appeals to candidates to go on record, and urges as first step in the eradicaion of soviet propaganda the depor ation of Martens. It is declared he revolutionists still are active.

When it is remembered that one of the candidates for governor of Georgia. Thomas W. Hardwick, is the paid attorney in this country of the soviet government of Russia, defending this same Martens, who is at this time in the legal custody of Hardwick, and that this same Hardwick is appealing to deals more closely than any other with all the people of Georgia, touching the very hearthstones of every Georgia home, then the imperativeness of this call to the colors to defeat Hardwick and his kind n America can be appreciated. Read every word of this article-it sounds a note of warning that should ring in the ears of every Georgian today before he goes to the polls.

I quote from The New York Journal of Commerce: "The National Civic Federation yesterday addressed an appeal to the signers of its declaration against the recognition which was submitted to Fresident Wilson last spring.

"In its letter of transmittal to the signers, they are asked to act at once in this matter, as sinister influences are already discernible in the present national campaign."
The letter in part says:

"Three months ago more than two thousand men and women of all parties throughout the United States, among whom you were one, signed a declaration against recognition of soviet Russia, which was sent in the form of a petition to the president of the United States In this document the signers volced their apprehension of the bolshevist movement throughout the world, declaring:

"We believe that recognition of soviet Russia would be a repudiation of all that our national life was represented for 50 years, and of all the spiritual ideals for which modern civilization has striven for 2,000 years."

Documentary proof in possession of the state department has demonstrated the existence of an organized propaganda whose ramifications enmesh the world. This propaganda of inciting discentent, sedition and revolution is financed, as recent disclosures prove, by tremendous sums, largely raised by the sale of lewels stolen by the solvet regime from Russian palaces and churches. In England, Europe and America it seeks to gain control of labor and to use the general strike to coerce or paralyze every form of representative government.

"The American labor movement stands firmly against all these bolshevist policies. The American Federation of Labor, at Montreal, refused by an almost unanimous vote any recognition of soviet Russia. Notwithstanding the fact that organized labor stands solidly against bolshevism and that the debacle in Poland may temporarily check the activities of bolshevist serita. The red cause is best served by inculcating a sense of false security and the belief that Russian bolshevism is collapsing, that America is immune from attack, and that those who fear the red menace exaggerate the danger. Each day the forces of attack increase. From abroad, as immingration statistics show, within the past months have come thousands of allens who are to be distributed throughout the land, the unassimilable portion of which promise to be a perpetual yeast of discontent.

Clutching with dread. Then she looked about. And joined the human Niagara. From sixty theaters. And in the splash of light. Her face was eerie.

Faces that were flushed. Happy and buoyant. And she was ready always. To bestow the tragic smirk. But sultan and satrap.

Prince and pauper. Turned away with shudders. And women whose throats. Blazed with jewelled stars. Like the Milky Way. Drew their skirts away.

With instinctive disgust

As she lurched by And she passed one man Who gave her a quick glance. Then flashed a silver badge. And she cringed like the dog. In fear of the lash. And darted across the way

And was gone. And as I walked home. Content with the world. That in that vast throng Wine of a hundred races.

States That There Are No Excessive Profits in Farming Implements.

Chicago, September 7 .- (Special.) Cyrus H. McCormick, chairman of the Harvester company's board of directors, referring to the federal trade commission's report, said today: "It should be noted that the report does not find that prices of profits in the farm implement in-dustry are excessive, exorbitant, or unreasonable; and yet the commis-sion's figures on manufacturers' profits greatly exceed the Harvesunreasonable; and yet the commission's figures on manufacturers' profits greatly exceed the Harvester company's net earnings as shown by its balance sheets, audited and certified to by public accountants of the highest standing. "The report specifically finds that the farmer was not prevented from making fab profits on account of the increased price of farm implements because from 1913 to 1914 the increase in implements was only 73 per cent: while the increase in prices of farm products was 118 per cent. Furthermore it finds that farm implements costs constitute less than 10 per cent of the farm operating expense."

less than 10 per cent of the tarm operating expense."

The full text of the report shows the increase in prices of farm implements, form products and all commodities between 1914 and 1918, and says after 1915 all three increased rapidly; but the greatest increase was that in farm products prices, while the smallest was that of farm implements. Giving each of the groups the value of 100 in 1914: by 1918 farm implements had increased to 173, all commodities to 197 and farm products to 212."

"The Commission might well have added

And more humanity. liad any agreement or understanding with any competitor relating to any prices."

"The senate resolution calling for this report did not mention the decree in the case of the Government against the Harvester company. Nevertheless the Commission has unnecessarily and unjustifishly injected that subject into its reports. This discussion appears to be merely volunteer criticism of an important department of the government by a minor bureau. Not one new fact is presented in this criticism, except its finding that the Harvester Co's percentage of trade in the lines which it is accused of dominating continues atteadily to decrease."

"The Feredal court's decree gave this company a definite period in which to make certain changes in its business required by the government. This period has not expired. There is no intimation that the company is not faithfully carrying out the terms of the decree. Under the decree of the court we are to be judged by the facts as they develop through the period described. This course will commend itself to reasonable men in preference to warped and perverted prejudgment of the future by doctrinalires connected with the Federal Trade Commission."

JOE M. BROWN REPLIES TO B. M. BLACKBURN

Former Governor Gives Position in Regard to Union Labor.

Former Governor Joseph M. Brown has sent the following card to The Constitution in reply to a letter from B. M. Blackburn, candidate for congress:

Dear Sir: I notice in your issue of this date a letter from Hon. Ben M. Blackburu in which he says:

"When Governor Brown was elected the first time he received practically every laror union vote in Atlanta. His changed attitude as to labor followed that election."

Permit me to say, regarding the above, that labor unionism's inferential claim that it has the "right" to resort at will to law-lessness was in no sense an issue in the gubernatorial primary of 1908.

Furthermore, during my first term in the executive office, labor union miners in Walker county went on starke and threatened to blow up the powder house at the Durham mines. This, if done, would have destroyed the town, probably killing women and children. On call by the deputy sheriff who was on the scene, I ordered state troops to the mines to protect the people and the law against the labor union miners.

A publication signed by labor union chiefs declared that organized labor would never forgive me for my action in the above matter.

During my second term labor union street matter.

During my second term labor union street car men in Augusta went on strike and resorted to violence whereby two non-union car men were murdered and several others were wounded.

car men were murdered and several others were wounded.

On call by the mayor, I ordered out sfits troops to protect the people and the law.

I have never had any "changed attitude as to labor." I have never by spoken or by written word denied the right of laboring men to organize unions, but I have always denied the right to make those unions the cloak of lawlessness which oftitmes ends not only in destruction of property but also in murder of law-abiding people.

Under these conditions, it is quite significant that those labor union men who have denounced me as "the arch enemy of labor" have never one time denounced their brother members for the crimes they have committed. Tals significance is emphasized by the further fact that within the past eight years it has been made necessary to call out troops to suppress acts of lawlessness by members of labor unions in thirty, states of our union whereas it has not been found necessary in even one state to call out troops to suppress such acts by those the labor union men term "capitalists."

WALKER VICTORY TODAY PREDICTED

Continued From First Page carefully checked the entire state county by county. After giving Hardwick every county in which there was even the slightest shadow there was ever the slightest shadow of a doubt, and after giving Holder all counties where he stood a chance, it still remained certain that on Wednesday night, after the final return is in, Clifford Walker would be nominated next governor of Georgía.

be nominated next governor of Georgia.

It only remains for the voters and workers in each county to fulfill the promises they have made. That there will be a very heavy poli all over the state is certain. The Hardwick forces will be out almost 100 per cent and it will be necessary for every loyal democrat to exercise his suffrage in the interests of victory for the party of the south. While it is a little early to predict a landslide to Walker, it is yet a settled fact among those who have carefully followed the race, and who are familiar with conditions in all parts of the state, that the Walker victory is going to be considerably more decisive than is generally expected.

pervades the Walker workers, and the past few days as thoroughly as do those who have been with him.

Mr. Walker has devoted his entire effort during the campaign to the defeat of Hardwick. He has refused to be drawn into arguments between other loyal candidates and he has freely asked his friends in every county to unite on the strongest candidate to defeat Hardwick, irrespective of whether that man was himself or some other.

As a matter of fact, some of the counties which will be found in the Holder column after the results are tabulated will be there because of this unselfish expression by the workers on the first primary is also a certain fact.

Now that the windup is in sight, says the Walker statement, it is gratifying to know that loyal democratic all cover the state have unselfishly sunk their personal feelings for the crisis and have unselfishly sunk their personal feelings for the crisis and have univiringly given of their time and offer to bring about the overleamed will come on Wednesday might, when they read the official returns and see county after county piled up into a crushing repudiation of Hardwick, and the safe election of C. Extracts from the letter addressed by the National Civic Federation, which is made up of people from each of the parties, are given below. They contain a warning of the dire results that may follow with reference to American institutions, and charge the soviet representatives with being responsible for the unrest and the various social troubles now confronting the American people.

Excerpts From Appeal.

Excerpts from the letter, which was addressed to President Wilson and signed by the National Civic Federation, were given out by Walker headquarters as follows:

"The red offensive against Warsaw has been broken, but already Lenine threatens to raise a bolshevikist army of 5,000,000 to renew the red onslaught. Whether this will be possible or not, the red offensive against civilization through intrigue, plot and subsidized propaganda, has not been checked.

"Three months ago more than 2,000 men and women of ait parties throughout the United States, among whom you were one, signed positively prohibited by the committee, where two or more candidates are to be nominated for similar offices. Thus, should a voter vote for only one candidate for representative from Fulton county. then in that event the vote for said representative is not to be counted; the offices where single-shotting is prohibited. among whom you were one, signed a declaration against recognition of soviet Russia, which was sent in the form of a petition to the president of the United States. In this document the signers voiced their apprehension of the bolshevist movement throughout the world, declaring: In addition to the governor and en all measures to prevent any con-is a contest are: Secretary of state, permits. S. G. McLendon, incumbent, and movement throughout declaring:

"We believe that the recognition of soviet Russia would be a repudiation of all that our national life has represented for 150 years, and all of the spiritual ideals for which modern civilization has striven for 2000 years." George B. Davis and George M. Napier; railroad commissioner. W. Trox Bankston and Paul B. Trampeals to succeed O. H. B. Bloodworth, O. H. B. Bloodworth incumbent, and W. H. "The American government, following the splendid lead of France through the secretary of state, in his letter to the Italian ambassador, has since expressed its unequivocal stand against any recognition of the lawless autocracy and control of soviet Russia. That stand has evoked spontaneous and unanimous approval from the leaders and press of both the republican and democratic parties, showing that the problem is American and not partisan.

"Lenine announced publicly in Moscow that Russia must continue to foment revolution in all countries, and that his chief immediate hope was for a revolution in Asia and the east. Documentary proof in possession of the state department has demonstrated the existence of an organized propaganda, whose ramifications enmesh the world. This propaganda of inciting discontent, sedition and revolution is financed, as recent disclosures prove by tremendous sums, largely raised by the sale of jewels stolen by the soviet regime from Russian palaces and churches. In England, Europe and America, it seeks to gain control of labor and to paralyze every form of representative government.

"The American labor movement stands firmly against the bolshevist movement. The American Federation of labor, at Montreal refused, by unanimous vote, any recognition of the soviet government.

"The forces of sutocratic barbarism are not confined to socialists, I. W. W.'s and anarchists, but the cause of Lenine is more actively furthered, either frankly or by indiscretion by radical psuedo-intellectual writers, editors, professors, teachers and clergymen. It is declared that these enemies of our representative government often hold very high and influential positions. lanta circuit, John A. Boykin, is opposed by William S. Coburn. SOVIET COMPLAINING

OVER PEACE ARRANGEMENTS. Warsaw, September 7 .- (By the Associated Press.)-The Russian so viet government has sent a wireless message to Poland, saying the Russians are dissatisfied with the arrangements for the Russo-Polish peace negotiations at Riga because of the Letvian guarantees are in-sufficient. The soviet government complains that Letvia made no reference to the liberty of movement of the delegates, a headquarters during the negotiations, or immunity of documents from examination at the frontier.

George Tchitcherin, the soviet for eign minister, wants a large building in which to house the delegates. M. Kanieniecki, the Polish charge d'affaires in Riga, has been introduced to urge the Letvians to comply with the soviet request. Poland, it is announced, is willing to open negotiations without further assurances. Meanwhile, the Polish delegates are planning to start for Riga this week. In diplomatic circles here the belief is expressed that the soviet objections will be met and there will be no delay in opening the conference.

Inasmuch as control of armaments vas made one of the objects of the eague of nations, the inquiry into the movement for universal disarmament has developed, officials said today, into an investigation of the present status of the armament control clauses of the league of naions covenant.

Without having taken up the main problem of a radical and general disarmament of nations, the league of nations, according to reports re eeived here today in official circles, has begun the organization of machinery for solving the problem Preliminary investigations and studies of the league have commenced and some subsidiary phases of the main problem such as the control to the manufacture or munitions and of the use of gas in warfare already have been discussed with a view of reaching a universal agreement ready have been discussed with a view of reaching a universal agreement.

Organization of the "advisory committee on military, naval and air questions" as provided in the league covenant for advising the council of the means for execution of the armament control clauses of the covenant was made by the league council, according to official advices in Rome May 17. At that time the question of disarmament in its broadest phase was not considered and it was understood it could not be considered by the league immediately. Some of the smaller nations of the league pressed very anxiously, but vainly, at that time, according to the advices for steps looking to the application of the control clauses.

In August the advisory committee on military, naval and air matters met with the league council at San Sebastian, Spain, where its first agenda was according to the official advices, as follows:

"Elaboration of the regulations of the league as to the military, naval and aerial forces and armaments of states requesting admission to the league; control of the traffic in armament and munitions; use of poison gas in warfare, and duties of the committee as the eventual exercise of the right of the league of nations to make investigation at any time in Germany under the treaty of Versailles."

As a result of the necessity of seeking co-operation whether within the league or without, in any effectual program for the limitation of armaments, the official advices reported that early action on any scheme for universal disarmament was not to be expected. At the same time the clashing of the nationalistic interests of many nations also was recognized as temporarily obstructing any plans for the immediate reduction of armaments.

Advices from Japan have indicated strong opposition existed there ments.

Advices from Japan have indicated strong opposition existed there against any limitation of armaments as it is claimed that Japan, on account of her peculiar position, is entitled to exception by other nations from any program of disarmament. Inquiries from other sources have indicated an unwillingness on the part of other nations to consent to reduce in any way their armamets short of the most universal co-operation of all other governments.

Visits Army Post and Hospital and Addresses People From Train.

to, his headquarters at Fort Eheridan and after a rest at the Wood home, visited the general hospital, where several hundred soldiers, wounded in the war, are under treatment. The candidate shook many of them by the hand and expressed his sympathy and hope for a quick recovery. After the call at Fort Sheridan, the senator did not return to Chicago, but drove to Deerfield, a suburb, to board his special train for St. Paul, where he will deliver an address at the Minnesota state fair tomorrow on agricultural issues.

He made no speeches here, but earlier in the day he made his first rearplatforn talk to a crowd at Huntington, Ind., selecting as his theme an indorsement of the Cummins-Esch railway act. Besides General Wood, Senator New, of Indiana, chairman of the republican speakers' bureau, met Senator Harding at the train and remained with him during the afternoon. No formal reception or demonstration had been organized and several shifts in plans had kept the general public in doubt at which station the special would arrive. It was said the nominee preferred to have his visit here devoted solely to his personal call on the general.

Poland.

The ambassador conferred with Secretary Colby during his short stay in Washington. It is now understood, however, that owing to the changed situation as a result of Pollsh victories and also because of conditions in Italy, no formal commitment to any line of policy in treating with Russia is to be expected from Rome at the present. Unofficial and verbal assurances of sympathetic support of the American position already have been presented to Counsellor Brambilla.

The British government is understood to have come to a similar conclusion regarding the American-Polish pote, which was not directly addressed to it, while Japan knows of it only as a matter of courteey through a copy handed to the ambassador without expectation of eliciting a response.

Candidate for Solicitor General Atlanta Judicial Circuit Asks Your Support

GEORGE R. SPARKS

WILLIAM S. COBURN

TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON COUNTY:

In asking for your kind support and influence in my race for the office of solicitor general, I wish to state that I have never before offered for, or held, any public office.

I have not asked for the Bar's indorsement, as this is unfair to the members of the Bar. My opponent has advertised a list given to him which is less than one-fourth of the Lawyers in Atlanta, many of these are duplicated and some are residing out of Fulton county.

I was offered an appointment in the legal branch of the Department of Justice by the President of the United States, but this I declined, preferring to accompany my regiment to the Mexican Border.

I have practiced law twenty years, with the exception of the three years I have just served in the army.

If elected I will discharge the duties of this office to the best of my ability; striving to convict the guilty, but exonerating the innocent.

My assistants will be:

Mr. C. Wheeler Mangum, a resident of Atlanta more than fifty years; has served four two-year terms as sheriff of Fulton County and two terms as member of the City Council. For 33 years previous to this he was connected with the Western & Atlantic Railroad and was General Yardmaster of that line when he resigned to take up other duties.

Mr. George R. Sparks, a resident of Atlanta all of his life and at present holding a very important position with the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, with whom he has been associated the past seventeen years.

Mr. William W. Smith, a resident of Atlanta 37 years; is a wood-worker and is now and has been the past ten years employed by the Krueger Manufacturing Company as foreman of its factory. Mr. A. W. Dimmock, a resident of Atlanta 40 > years, and the past 16 years associated with the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company, and Mr. David L.

> Powles, a resident of Atlanta 12 years, served three years in the army during the World War, and has been in the employ of railroads for nine years, filling important positions, and is now with the Morrow Transfer Company.

I respectfully solicit the vote and influence of the people of Fulton County.

OU are one of the millions of men who never troubled to remember the name of a shoe.

You said to your dealer merely: "Show me the best shoe you have at a medium price."

So unconsciously you have been nelping to build the W. H. McElwain Company into one of the biggest businesses of its kind in the world.

For when you have said "best at a medium price" your dealer has often responded by selling you McElwain Shoes.

HE founder of the McElwain business said: "If I can eliminate costly waste in manufacture and so make a little better shoe at a medium price, the men of America will find it out, whether it bears my name or not.

"The style and wear of the shoe will be its advertisement. And the satisfaction of millions of men will make the business grow".

He was right. We are proud of what the McElwain name has come to mean to the trade - so proud that we have stamped it on the shoe. We would like to have you remember now to ask for a McElwain Shoe.

T is pronounced McElwain. Not the easiest word in the world to remember, but one of the most worth while. For to 25,000 leading independent shoe dealers it means the best shoe for men and boys at a medium price.

intra-state freight rates on all commodities except cotton, cotton linters and brick.

The railroads claim that the order exempting the above commodities, is not in keeping with the increases granted for traffic by the interstate commerce commission, and that an unjust burden has been placed upon the interstate traffic by the discrimination in Georgia in favor of these products.

A hearing on the above question will be held on September 10.

On September 15, the railroad commission will hear arguments on the petition of the Georgia Railway and Power company and the Georgia Northern railway for an increase in power and street car rates.

You must combat film

Brushing does not clean teeth if it eaves the film. It removes some debris, but it does not end the teeth's great

Millions find that well-brushed teeth still discolor and decay. Tooth troubles have been constantly increasing. Now modern dental science finds the reason in New film is viscous. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Then, between your dental cleanings, it may do a ceaseless damage.

The ordinary tooth paste does not end film. A soapy tooth paste makes it more viscous. So brushing teeth in old ways has left much film intact: Its daily removal has in late years been a major dental problem.

How film ruins teeth

It is this film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film, and very few escape them.

Dental science, after painstaking research, has found new ways to combat film. Able authorities have proved them by clinical and laboratory tests. Their efficiency is now beyond all question. These methods have with millions revolutionized teeth cleaning.

These new factors are combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent - an ideal tooth paste which complies with all the new requirements. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. To prove it quickly to all careful people, a ten-day tube is being sent to everyone who asks.

Five quick effects

Pepsodent brings five desired effects with every application. Some are at once apparent, and all soon show their benefits

One ingredient is pepsin. Another mul-tiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to digest starch deposits that cling. Another instant result is multiplied alkalinity of the saliva to neutralize mouth

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

Thus with every application Pepsodent combats the teeth's great enemies in new and efficient ways. Both in Europe and America it is fast bringing a new era in teeth cleaning.

The way to know it is to try it. The first application reveals some new effects. A few-day test is most convincing. See these effects, read the reasons for them. and judge this new method for yourself. If it brings you whiter, safer, cleaner teeth, tell others about it. There are few things more important,

Guyon's Home Run in Eighth Aoday's Is Supreme Insult to Pels, Who Were Defeated 11 to 4

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY.

Just because they batted 164 during their recent visit to the haven of the Pelicans, the Atlanta Crackers jumped on "Red" Torkelson yesterday afternoon at Ponce de Leon park, and administered to his manily brow one of the choleest beatings they've given him in many moons. Thirteen hits counted 11 runs for the Frankmen, while Cliff Markle eased up after obtaining a command lead, and permitted four Dobbers to cross the home cross the home station.

The Crackers landed on him for every one of the known hits, doubles by Jack Martin and Cliff Markle; a triple by Charlie High and Guyon's home run. Most of the bingles brought in tallies, and few of them proved harmless. Guyon's homer resulted in three runs; High's triple brought in "Red" Wingo with the first run of the fray; Markle's double came with the bases loaded. Smith, Damrau and Hager scoring on the clout, while Guyon's circuit mash brought Markle and Martin prancing over the plate before the hero of the mighty wallop.

During the time Cliff was going at top speed, he fanned eight of the Pelicans, but the figures of "what might have been," had the curved ball artist been forced to extend himself to the close of the chapter, will never be known. He was in trouble once or twice, but his slants were brought to the rescue, and the storm clouds rolled on without leaving a trace of damage.

Vardon and Ray are here today for the feature golfing event of the season. This morning at 10 o'clock they will tee off with E. Douglas Edgar and Howard Beckett for a 36-hole match over the Capital City club course at Brookhaven. Ted Ray is the greatest driver and most spectacular putter on earth. He has twice held the British open title, once tied for the American open, and this year copped the national open title over the classiest field ever assembled.

Harry Vardon is the greatest figure in the golfing world today. He has six times held the British open title, and has twice held the same honor in America. He was tied for second only one stroke behind

He came through with a sizzling pinch bingle in the fifth that scored Markle from second and later scored on High's single. The big feat for Joe came in the eighth when he drove Red Torkleson's fast one over Larry Gilbert for a circuit clout with two runners scoring ahead of him. Ordinarily the hit would have been good for three sacks but Joe's ability to cover ground netted him four pegs in a cinch. He only got one chance in the field but made a good catch off a short hit ball off Gilbert in the fifth.

Down in the Million Dollar, the big Indian clouted for an average of around 500 against the class of the league. He beat out hits to the infield with regularity and hit them on the nose with a vim. The five chances at the plate this afternoon resulted in the two hits related above, in two others smacked on the nose and one strikeout. The only question remains regarding Joe's ability to swat against the Southerf twirlers. His wonderful speed outclasses anything in the south and his ability to cover the outfield should gain him a good birth.

Tom Turner, scout for the Philadelphia Athletics, witnessed today's contest from the Cracker bench. He refused to comment on the players of the two outfits but cast several longing eyes ther Cliff Markle as cracker headquarers with the best wishes of the Southern league fans in general and especially the Atlanta contingent of admirers.

Another Southern league star, Joe Sewell, former college luminary, and lately handling the short field in the impeccable manner for the Pelicans, will also be granted the opportunity of traveling in fast company this year. Sewell has already severed his connection with the New Orleans club and has journeyed to Cleveland to make a hard try for the position, made vacant by the untimely death of Ray Chapman. Rader, Joe Sewell's successor, looks good on short and will fill Joe's shoes very capably. Of course he is not in the Alabama star's class but there are few that can be said of. Rader handled five nice chances at short without a bobble and collected one hit which scored two runners. He made a spectacular stop off Fred Hager in the eighth but failed to get Smith at third on the play. He handles himself in good fashion and covers a world of territory about Sewell's old roosting place.

Bobby Going Great.

Bobby Jones stepped into a fast pace for a shell in his match with his fellow-townsman. Jones was three up in the forenoon round, where only three holes were halved. But in the second round it seemed that the young Georgian was likely to give Dean a chance because of some careiess putting. The Princeton man began to sink tweiver footers while Jones was missing a brace of two-footers, and so at the third hole Dean was only one down. Here Jones struck in a birdie three at the 405-yard fourth and at the eighth planted arbirdie two. Bobby was out in 35 against 36 for Dean, which shows the quality of golf the young Georgians were playing.

Jones made one shot that aroused great applause from the large gallery following. Stymled by two clumps of trees on his tee shot, he took a chance and drove straight through them, making the green in two. Jones went around the first through them, making the green in two. Hickey Springs Surprise.
Richard Hickey, ne 19-year-old junior at the University of Georgia, gave Francis Ouimet the shock of his life, but after a gruelling match Ouimet was the victor, 3 up and 2 to play. Hickey played with such consistency that the Boston starfound himself one down at the twelfth hole. with the request that it be passed on to the boxing fans of the city:

"I was notified at 7 o'clock Tuesday night that my services were needed against Larry Avera, and not wishing to have Mr. McDonald and his associates embagrassed by Battling Budd's illness, I consented to meet Avera, knowing at the time that I was not in condition to make a creditable showing against Avera, who is one of the best boys I have ever met.

"I did the best I could under the circumstances, but I believe that I am capable of doing much better against Avera, and I will welcome another battle with him, with only one provision: That I be given enough notice to get myself in good shape. He is a good boy, but I am certain that I know how to fight him."

A Great Battle.

The Balley-Denham fight was of short duration, but the railbirds saw enough real action in it to warrant the price of admission. It was too short for a critic to gauge anything except the mighty hitting power of Bailey, who showed improvement over his last affair, in which he received the decision over the plucky Denham. Weakened by the terrific wallops Jake Abel, middleweight champion of the south, shot to his stomach uled ten-round main event at the Auditorium last night, Milourn Say-Additorium last night, Milourn Saylor's seconds tossed a towel into the ring in the middle of the fourth round, giving the Atlantan a technical knockout over the Indianapolis battler. The Hoosier's was floored twice in the final round by right hooks Abel crashed to the jaw, taking a count of seven on one occasion and five on the other.

The struggle was a great one from the start, but at that it was only one of four excellent mills Promoter McDonald staged. The crowd wasn't huge, but it showed a vast improvement, the number of ladies in attendance being isrger than at any previous bill at the Auditorium.

The Preliminaries.

Hoosier with some terrible clouts in the first and second rounds, most of them being directed at Saylor's middle section, and resulting finally in the downfall of the visitor.

The first round was about even, the crowd becoming instantly aware of the fact that Milburn had a left that was capable of causing some damage, should it find a safe landing place. It was, during this first frame that Saylor put across one fairly hard blow, and after that Abel discovered the way to stay clear of the wallop.

Davis, Atlanta's third sacker, was the bright star in the fielding line. Davis has been playing in an Atlanta uniform for the larger part of the year, and has aided Atlanta considerably in the fight for the penant. Before coming to the Atlanta Black Crackers, Davis was pastiming around the third station for the Jacksonville team of the colored league, and always had the fans holding their breath by his wonderful stabe of hard-hit line drives and of his beautiful pick-ups of ground balls that well labeled for base hits. Batteries for today's game were, for Atlanta, Gissentaner and O'Neil; for Knoxville, Force and Brown. The two teams will meet again this afternoon in the second game of the present fourgame series. Hampton or Lockhart will probably be on the mound for the Black Crackers, while "Steel Arm" Dickey or Maddox, the one-armed wonder, will be the pitching selection of the Knoxville manager.

Abel drove an awful crash to Saylor's stomach and the visitor went to his knees. The Atlantan followed this with a right cross to the jaw taking a short count. The third knockdown of the round resulted from a blow to the stomach, the bell saving and Milburn hit the canvas again. In the third round Milburn succeeded in accomplishing a bit of damage in the in-fighting, and this ability earned him a draw for

By winning first place yesterday, D. A. Deen, of Jacksonville, Fla, took first honors of the southern trapshooting tournament, which was brought to a close with Tuesday's events. The tourney was opened Monday morning with a big field. Not quite so large a field participated yesterday, but competition was keener. Deen won first place yesterday by breaking 149 out of a possible 150 targets.

Second place in yesterday's program was earned by D. B. Swiggert and W. C. Waldrup, who were tied with 147 targets each. E. L. Moss, professional, and P. R. Earl divided third-place honors with 146 each. Mr. Deen's record for both days was 341 out of 350 targets, which score led his nearest rival by 5 points. E. L. Moss, professional, took second place in the meet with a score of 336, and O. J. Glausier won a third by making a score of 335. The Atlanta representation in the tournament was led by Brad Timms, with an aggregate score of 334. The Final Round.

The fourth and last round would without doubt have resulted in a clean knockout for Abel had Saylor's seconds permitted the bout to continue. His opponent, tottering from the effects of the barrage he sent to the stomach, Abel shifted his attack to the head in this round, a neat clip to the jaw sending Saylor down for a count of seven. He finally got to his feet, but Abel waded in, shooting another wallop to the jaw, and sending the visitor to the canvas for another count. It was at this point the towel was hurled in, Referee McDonald raising Abel's hand in token of victory. Saylor apparently was not in the best of condition for a beut with such a werthy opponent as Jake Abel, but the blame for defeat cannot be laid at the door of poor training. Jake is eminently the better fighter of the two, and the same verdict would probably ensue were the two boys rematched.

A Great Battle.

Mr. Timms also led the field in long runs, breaking 113 targets without a miss being chalked up against him. This is probably the longest run ever made in a meet in the state. Mr. Timms is a former state trapshooting champion.

Other long runs of the tournament include D. A. Deen, two runs, one Benton Harbor, Mich.. September 7.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavy-weight 'champion, received $55,000 for battering Billy Miske, the St. Paul châllenger, to defeat in the third round of their scheduled tenround bout here yesterday, according to a statement of the receipts given out today by Floyd Fitzsimmons, promoter of the contest.

The total attendance of the Labor day battle was 11,348, and the total receipts were $134,904, including state and war tax. According to the articles of agreement Dempsey was gharanteed $50,000 with a privilege of accepting fifty per cent of the receipts. Miske fought on a straight guarantee of $25,000.

After the knockout it was reportated.

After the knockout it was reported than one of Miske's ribs had been broken by the terrific punch he had received in the second round, but the challenger was examined by two physicians after he reached his training camp and they agreed there was no fracture. The spot under Miske's heart was still red and sore today from the effects of the punch, which, Miske admitted, was the blow that really started him tothe blow that really started him to ward defeat.

Dempsey did not bear a mark of the battle. He will immediately go east in search of new opponents to conquer. Promoter Fitzsimmons declared the contest was a success in every way.

Despite the police protection, scores of visitors were victims of pickpockets. Secretary McCauley, of the state boxing commission, lost $180.

Miske was heart-broken over his defeat. His father and wife were ring-side spectators.

"Would you like to—to go to a private school?"

The child did not understand. So he told her about such schools and the little girls who went to them. She seemed deeply interested; her grey eyes were clear and seriously intelligent, and very, very intently fixed on him in the effort to follow and understand what he was saying.

He told her about other children who lived amid happy surroundings; what they did, how they were cared for, schooled, brought up; what was expected of them by the world—what was required by the world from those who had had advantages of a home, of training, of friends, and of an education. He was committing himself with every word, and refused to believe it. At times he paused to question her, and she always nodded seriously that she understood. But this," he added smilingly, "you may not entirely comprehend, Steve; that such children, brought up as I have explained to you, owe the human race a debt which is never cancelled." He was talking to himself now, more than to her; voicing his thoughts; feeling his way toward the expression of a philosophy which he had heretofore only vaguely entertained. "The hope of the world lies in such children, Steve," he said. "The world has a right to expect service from them. You don't understand do you?"

do you?"
Her wonderfully clear eyes were almost beautiful with intelligence as they looked straight into his. Perhaps the child understood more than he herself realized more than he believed she understood.

"Shall I come to see you again, Steve?"

"Shall I come to see you again. Steve?"

"Yes sir. please."

There was a pause. Very gently the slight pressure of his arm, which had crept around her, conveyed to her its wistful meaning, and when she understood she leaned slowly toward him in winning response, and offered her lips with a gravity that captivated him.

"Good-bye, Steve, dear." he sald unsteadily. "I'll come to see you again very soon. I surely, surely will come back again to see you, Steve."

Then he but on his hat and went out abruptly—not down toom to Christensen's, but back to the United Charities, and, after an hour, from there he went down town to his attorney's, where he spent the entire day uniler suppressed excitement.

For there were many steps to take and much detail to be attended to before this new and momentous deal could be put through—a transaction concerning a human soul and the measures to be taken to insure its salvage.

CHAPTER III.

During the next few weeks John William Cleland's instinct fought a continuous series of combats with his reason.

Instinct, with her powerful allies, loneliness and love, urged the solitary man to rash experiments; reason ridiculed impulse and made it very clear to Cleland that he was a fool.

But instinct had this advantage; she, was always awake, whispering to his mind and heart, and reason often fell asleep on guard over this brain.

But when awake, reason laughed at the conspirators, always in ambush to slay him; and carried matters with a high hand, rebuking instinct and frowning upon her allies.

And John Cleland hesitated. He instinct and frowning upon her allies.

And John Cleland hesitated. He wrote to his only son every day. He strove to find occupation for every minute between the morning awakening fa his silent chamber and the melancholy lying down at night.

But always the battle between reason and instinct continued.

Reason had always appealed to Cleland, Sr. His parents and later his wife and son had known the only sentimental phenomena which had ever characterized him in his career. Outside of these exceptions reason had always ruled him. This is usually the case among those who inherit money from forebears is usually the case among those who inherit money from forebears who, in turn, have been accustomed to inherit and hand down a moderate, but unimpaired fortune through sober generations.

Such people are born logical when not born fools. And now Cleland, Sr., mortified and irritated by the increasing longing which obsessed him, asked himself frequently which of these he really was.

"Would you like to—to go to a private school?"
The child did not understand. So demands of new interests, new friends increasing year by year.

He told himself that to take another child into his home would be unfair to wim; to take her into his heart was disloyal; that the dear past belonged to his wife alone, the present and the future to his only son.

Well, the arrangements took some time to complete: but they were fairly complete when finished. She kept her own name; she was to have six thousand dollars a year for life after she became twenty-one. He charged himself with her mental, moral, spiritual, physical and general education.

It came about in the following manner:

First of all, he went to see a gentleman who; he had known for many years, but whose tatus with himself had always re ained a trifle indefinite in his mind—somewhere betwist indifferent friendship and informal acquaintance.

Hair Curling Troubles Are Over-Read This!

Have you heard about the newest way to keep the hair in curi? If not, by all means cut out these simple directions and try this wonderful method. Procure a new tooth brush and a few ounces of plain liquid silmerine from your druggist. Apply enough of the liquid with the brush to moisten the hair from root to tip just before doing it up. You will be quite astonished when you find you have such lovely waves and curls they appear altogether natural, instead of having been artificially acquired. Best of all, the waviness will last very much longer than it would otherwise. Your hair, of course, will have more "body" and fluffiness than where the drying, singelng, waving from is used. It will appear glossier and livelier, for silmerfue has proved equally desirable as a dressing for the hair. You'll find it pleasant to use, and it will leave no sticky, greasy or streaky trace.—(adv.)

For Convalescent Hospital

The hospital for convalescent children is a new institution. The Oveaseas club opened it not so many weeks ago, but already it has a striking record of achievement.

It was founded largely on love and the unselfish desire on the part of its founders—Atlanta women who served in relief work in France—to continue their efforts for humanity in the direction in which their work in peace times seemed to offer the best opportunity.

They chose to care for little children just over illness or operations who could not have at home the building-up treatment which

Cotton Market Makes Sensational Advance

Points Net Higher Than RAILROAD ISSUES the Low Record of Last Week-Exchange Closes at Noon.

RANGE IN NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, September 7 .- There New York, September 7.—There was a sensationally rapid and excited advance in the cotton market here this morning. October contracts sold up to 28.30, or 195 points net higher and 280 points above the low record of last week. This carried the price up to within 5 points of the maximum permitted for the day, which attracted more realizing with October closing at 27.90.

The feneral market closed firm at a net advance of 145 to 165 points. Owing to the celebration of the fiftleth anniversary of the exchange, trading ended for the day at noon and covering on less favorable crop advices or unexpectedly firm cables, was doubtless hurried by the fact that it was only a half-day session.

The market opened strong at an advance of 90 to 135 points in response to the higher cables and reports of unfavorable weather over Sunday. The south was a seller liere, but Liverpool was an active buyer, while there was heavy scattered covering and there was no halt in the advance until active months showed net gains of 170 to 195 points late in the morning.

December contracts sold up to 26.50, while January sold at 25.55, making recoveries of from 200 to 280 points from recent low records on the active position. Reports of a better spot demand were circulating late in the morning, but the higher prices attracted considerable realizing and led to reactions of 15 to 40, points toward the close.

Private cables attributed the ed.

Private cables attributed the advance in Liverpool to covering of shorts on less favorable crop advices and unconfirmed rumors that a strike in the British coal mines might be averted. An announcement that woolen mills would begin to resume operations on Monday of next week had a favorable effect on sentiment around the ring, particularly among brokers who were looking for a gradual revival of trade now that the summer holidays are ended.

SPOTS IN NEW YORK.

New York, September 7.—Spot otton, quiet; middling, 32.25. COTTON ADVANCES

TEN DOLLARS A BALE

New Orleans, September 7.—Advances of ten dollars a bale were made today, the market rising the full 200 points, allowed under the rulings limiting daily fluctuations, on all trading months and closing at the highest. October went to 26.76 and March to 22.90. October bulged the full 200 points fairly early in the day, but later months were not as strong and did not reach maximum limits until the late trading.

The strength of Liverpool, private reports that the outlook for settling the threatened English coal sirike was better, continued rains in the belt and reports of somewhat better spot demand were the main factors that stimulated the buying. Confident short sellers of last week bought covers in large volume.

The weather map reflected considerable moisture in the belt, but private reports told of even more knides and it was evident that precipitation had been heavy in some local-lifes, especially in Texas, from which state there were many complaints of crop deterioration which caused the trade to expect bullish weekly crop reports from the government tomorrow.

Greatest strength came late in the day when the market was affected. TEN DOLLARS A BALE Greatest strength came late in the day when the market was affected by the forecast of more rain for the greater part of the belt, buyers looking for another wet weather map in the morning.

SPOTS IN NEW ORLEANS, New Orleans, September 7.—Spot cotton, steady; quotations revised. Middling unchanged. Sales on the spot, 374 bales; to arrive, 300. Low middling, 20.25; middling, 28.75; good middling, 32.00; receipts, 548; stock, 196,932.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS

ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, September 7.—(Special.)—The sensational advance in the price of futures in Liverpool this morning was the result of the oversoid condition in that market. Reports of rains over the belt and a more hopeful feeling that the British coal strike scheduled for September 25 will be averted. Private cables to us from Liverpool on the situation there indicate that the advance may be expected to be only temporary. Unless good demand for spot cotton develops or the rains over the belt continue, a resumption of lower prices seems probable.

New York. September 7.—(Special.)— Showers over the belt, with reports of deterioration to the Texas crop, brought a sharply higher Liverpool this morning. Our market responded and continued to adrance on short covering on fear of coninued unfavorable, weather tomorrow. The outh was a good seller on the advance gainst the movement, which is increasing with Httle improvement in the dry goods ituation. The mills show no disposition tooliow the advance because they cannot cell goods. The course of prices will to a large extent depend on the cloth market.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

and peen reached on all months on oard, all weather report shows rather genmoderate to heavy showers in the rn belt, with scattered showers in points in the eastern belt, while the set is for continued wet weather over intro belt. Fear of heavy deterioration at last to have put the bears on the sive and should wet weather continue er advance will likely be seen.

Announcement of the French activation confirms rumors of payment at maturity of the $500,000.

This will be accompanied by imports of the French account of a large amount of gold, some of which is already in transit.

Far from reflecting this prospect, however, exchange on London and Paris was heavy, the French rate breaking sharply. The rates to Belgium, Spain and Germany also reactly acted, while remittances to Argentina were more adversely affected by unfavorable trade conditions.

The local money market was fairly easy, most of the day's call loans being made at 7 per cent, with an advance to $ per cent at the close. More time money was available for three months, a few loans running into the next year.

Industrials and specialties were mainly higher at the outset and during the intermediate period, oils, steels and equipments advances at the irregular close.

Rallroad issues were again the most stable features of the bond market, the liberty group and internationals easing from best quotations. Total sales, par value, amounted to $9,400,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

son will be issued tomorrow on the opening, and will compare with 143,000 bales ginned to September 1 last year. This was the smallest ginning for a period of ten years, and tomorrow's ginning figures will probably show up considerably larger. If the weather continues bad over the belt, however, only passing attention may be paid to the ginning report, even if it is bearlish.

NORMAN, MAYER & CO.

ish. NORMAN, MAYER & CO.

New Orleans, September 7.—(Special.)—
The weekly weather and crop government review due tomorrow is likely to be rather bullish because of too much rain the past week and damage by worms and weevils, rust and shedding. As yet, however, there is no improvement in consequence in the idemand for spots, but the inquiry will probably increase, as the country is reported to be offered sparingly, in some instances not at all.

If the crop should deteriorate to such an extent as to point to about 12,000,000 hales, exclusive of linters, or about 13,000. 1000 including linters, and if the world should exceed 13,000,000, there is no reason why market should not rule as high as last season, when the average price for middling was 38.21 cents, as in that event the supply and demand would be about the same as last season.

As we contended, the size of the crop will be the governing price making influence in the market. If deterioration continues and prospects for a large crop fade away, market may continue to advance, especially if wet weather prevalls.

Wheat Closes Firm 1-2 to 21-2 Cents Net Higher. Corn Finishes 1-4 to 21-2 Cents Up.

Chicago, September 7.-Exporters were good buyers today of future were good buyers today of future deliveries of wheat and there was a consequent advance in prices. The market closed firm, ½ to 2½c net higher, with December $2.41 to $2.41 ¼, and March $2.38. Corn finished ¼ to 2½c up, and oats varied from one cent decline to ½c gain. Provisions finished at 5 cents loss to a rise of 50c.

The advance in quotations here on future deliveries of wheat took place despite advices telling of an apparent absence of export demand at these abroad and notwithstanding rather liberal receipts. One of the outstanding bullish factors was a generally accepted opinion that the government crop report tomorrow would sharply reduce the estimated yield of spring wheat. Besides, northwestern authorities sent reports indicating considerable damage to grain in shock. Knowledge that the visible supply total had increased to a moderate extent was offset by amountacement that clearances for the last three days amounted to upwards of 2,000,000 bushels.

Unfavorable weather counted against the bears in corn. The September delivery was the only one that appeared to be at all affected by the continued liberal receipts. Oats trading was light and mainly governed by the action of corn.

Milton Ave. School Children Are Told To Report Sept. 13

Children of the Milton Avenue school, which is in process of being rebuilt, following its destruction by fire early in the year, are requested by Superintendent of Schools W. F. Dykes to report at the school on September 13, the first day of the term.

Two basement rooms have been finished and, it is said that these will probably be occupied while work goes forward on the balance of the building. Instructions as to just what arrangement has been made to accommodate all the pupils of the school will be given when they assemble on the opening day. Following the fire, which destroyed the school, the children were transferred to the Pryor Street school and taught in afternoon sessions. New York, September 7.—Dry goods markets were quiet today after the holiday. Cotton goods were without significant change in price. Raw silk was stronger on reports of financial assistance from the Japanese government. Woolens were awaiting the opening on Thursday. Buriaps were dull.

New York, September 7.—The coffee futures market was lower today owing to continued fluctuations in Rio exchange rates and selling by local or New Orleans trade interests said to be argainst purchases at lower prices in the cost and freight market. The opening was 20 to 28 points lower and active months sold 35 to 44 points net lower during the day with December touching 850 and March 904. The close was a shade up from the lowest on covering, showing a net declines of 22 to 88 points. Closing bids: September 802: January 871: March 910: May 930: July 950. Spot coffee duli: Rio 7's 8½; Santos fours 14@15½; Little change was reported in the cost and freight market, so far as indicated by prices received here. The offers included well described Santos 4's at 12.73 to 13.40 American credits. So that athletes' spiked shoes can be worn indoors without injury to carpets or floors an inventor has patented a heavy sole and heel, had in place over the spikes by a toe strap.

Cat the Criterion.

The gambling hall of Monte Carlo, where men and women from the very ends of the earth assemble at the shrine of chance; is faithfully reproduced in "Passicr's Playground," the production in which Katherine MacDonald is appearing all this week at the Criterion theater. The story is taken from the novel, "The Guests of Hercules," and tells of a romantic love at fair botween a count and a beautiful young girl just out of a convent. She visits Monte Carlo and wins a fortune on the roulette wheel. This event marks the beginning of many tragic and romantic experiences in the life of the lucky young lady, finally ending in a thrilling climax. Miss MacDonald as Mary Grant, the convent girl is wonderfully east. Her performance is appealing and ranks far above anything she has done in the past. Other features of the bill are Topics of the Day, the Pathe Review and the Criterion orchestra.

By the provisions of a decree published in The Journal Official of July 28, 1920, a French company has been granted permission to establish a pipe line between Havre and Paris for the purpose or con-veying petroleum oils from the for-mer port to Paris and intermediary

All candidates present were invited to come forward and Bolt to the gathering and D. N. Hurf, candidate for the legislation of the legislation of the legislation of the legislation of the Georgia Carpenters' union. Mr. Upshaw discussed his legislative record, and declared that meither of his opponents had been able to answer his challenge to produce a single person among the more than 1,000 he had officially served who would express dissatisfaction with his representation of their interests. He also discussed pending national issues and closed his speech with a personal reference to certain criticism concerning his activities in Washington.

The speaker opened with the statement that the development of the girl, and 1 sand 17 with the boy. Gentlemen, I have never neglected an official duty to do church work at night during the week instead of going to the devil. Mr. Upshaw declared that the greatest purpose of legislation is the uplift of humanity.

Persia has no distillers, breweries or saloons, and native wine is the only intoxicating beverage used.

The closing political raily in the development of the girl, physically, and socially, is more conservative than that of the boy, with whom nature seems to experiment through the longer period of susceptibility, jointing out the historical fact that the honger period of susceptibility, polating out the historical fact that the development of the gatest alm of licial duty to do church work at the propose of le tailned that they lead to a blase attitude on the part of the young and, that whenever this state is reached, that the youthful vigor and initiative of the raceis endangered.

As contributory sources, were named modern speed of action, noises during hours of sleep, which cause rest to be secured under the half-wakeful conditions known as the dream-state, moving pictures which presentlife in it most vivid and realistic phases, and the modtnn dance, which violates the historical teachings of which dancing is capable.

Renders Problem Difficult.

Renders Problem Difficult.

It is the ever stimulating, the all too early ripening of the young, which these and other forces are accomplishing, which render the problem of developing an appreciation for the worth-while thinsg of an education, so difficult. Dr. Shea here charged the teachers with the necessity for making the appeal of his tory, languages andother subjects equal to the contest with the appeals offered out in daily life. As a hint to thise nd, he illustrated the fact that all moral consciousness grows out of the sense of responsibility, the dependency of some living thing upon the individual.

The lecture was closed with the point that the solving of this momentous problem must be done constructively, and not by prohibitions. Dr. Shea will speak to the primary school teachers this morning at 10 o'clock at the Girls' High school. Renders Problem Difficult.

There never has been anything quite like Carey Board for basement walls and partitions. It is made of three layers of wood fibre, and unlike any other wallboard, the layers are bound together with Asphalt Cement, to prevent warping. This Asphalt is the same material used to waterproof the outside of your concrete foundations. Because it is absolutely water-proof it makes no difference how damp the air is or what happens to the surface of the board, moisture never gets through it. The asphalt also makes the board an insulator against electricity, and especially sound deadening and heat retaining. Vermin detest asphalt and will not work through Carey Board. Thus it has advantages for household use no other board possesses.

Used in the natural, creamy color, it gives you a bright, cheerful attic room, warmer in winter, cooler in summer.

It can be applied by anyone. No tools needed but a knife to cut it and a hammer to nail it. We give prompt attention to orders for a few sheets or a carload.

Conversion of the main stockade building into a vocational training school for citizens of Atlanta de prived of educational advantage was advocated at the meeting in a talk made by Mayor Key, and his idea met the hearty indorse ment of the committee. The remainder of the stockade grounds, it was pointed out, could still be utilized as a public park and golf course in accordance with. the original plan, the feasibility which the committee was appointed to investigate.

Chosewood Outlines Purpose. Councilman Charles L. Chosewood, chairman of the committee was host at the dinner and presided at the meeting. He outlined its purpose and then introduced as the first speaker H. H. Beckett, golf instructor at Brookhaven, who had tract. He stated that it is adand that by careful figuring there is room for an 18-hole course. City Engineer C. E. Kaufman was present with plans which he had prepared, showing the contemplated that he was fully in accord with the movement to convert the farm into a public park and playgrounds, but he said that this proposal and should in nowise interfere with each other, and that both could be developed concurrently.

dence community, he said, necessitated that the property should best for the city and not best for the community surrounding that the prison plant remain where it is. Provision for the care of the prisoners could readily be made, he declared, stating that part of them, including the women, could be transferred to the dairy farm.

Vocational School. In the school which could be established in the vacated building, said, would be taught courses in carpentering, painting, black-smithing, printing, electrical work, plumbing, cabinet making and practically every conceivable kind of craft for the men, and courses in millinery, dressmaking and similar crafts for the women.

Others who spoke in favor of abolishing the stockade and providing for more recreational grounds were Cator Woolford, A. N. Thorn, president of the park board; Councilman C. T. Bailey, Major D. F. McClatchey and J. S. McClelland.

Senator Kenyon continued that in newspaper interviews, Mr. Moore had criticised the work of the committee and added:

"Senator," replied Mr. Moore, "Governor Cox had the official bulletins of the republican committee showing that certain quotas existed and that widespread plans were being carried out to collect them. Yet the republican witnesses get on the stand here and tell us these bulletins were only bull.' Then he had a copy of it that he had every reason to believe was a true quota list. The day before the list was published, the republicans said there were only four copies of it in existence. Now they testify that the list never existed. It is the same way with 'form 101' and we believe we have got to get this evidence if the committee really wants it." Governor Cox had the official bul-

Other Witnesses.

Besides Mr. Moore, there was testimony today also by Walter S. Dickey, of Kansas City, and Charles McNider, of Mason City, Iowa, chairman of the republican ways and means committees for their states, and by A. B. Paxton, of Wheeling, who holds a similar position for Ohio county, West Virginia. From Messrs. Dickey and McNider the committee learned of the plans to raise money in those states, Missouri's share of the national republican fund being given as $90,000, and lowa's as $75,000. Mr. McNider said that on his own initiative he set the Iowa goal at $200,000, believing that the figure askad by the national committee was too low to cover state, congressional district and national ticket needs in his state. He said $52,000 had been raised. Mr. Moore told the committee he thought this testimony tended to support the democratic charges that the $3,000,000 budget of the republican national committee was only a small part of the total that the party proposed to raise.

Mr. Paxton's testimony was to Other Witnesses.

Mr. Paxton's testimony was to the effect that he had raised $4,-285 from forty-one contributors and that James M. Saunders had raised $2,910 more in the county. When he said that was all he had to offer. Senator Kenyon indicated he had been subpoenaed at the request of democratic members of the committee and thought requiring a journey of 550 miles for such testimony was "rank injustice."

Truth by Retail.

"Well, I don't think so at all," interposed Senator Reed, "if we can not get the truth here by whole-sale we will get it by retail." "Well, you certainly are not going to birng in every county chairman in the country," replied Senator Kenyon.

Mr. McNider's testimony also brought a small sensation when Senator Reed asked:

Last Chapter of Political Fiasco Written by Constitution's Washington, Ga., Correspondent-His First Story Contained Facts of Situation.

BY BOYCE FICKLIN, JR

Washington, Ga., September 7.— (Special.)—The attempt to justify the action of a handful of men Saturday, collaborating with The Atlanta Journal, in pulling a bone with reference to local affairs, as published in The Atlanta Journal today, is ludicrous. The truth of the statements contaiend in your correspondent's report of Sunday night of the political fiasco in this county, can be substantiated by a jury composed solel yof Hoke jury composed solel yof Hoke Smith's most partisan supporters in Milkes county.

In fact before the article was put of the wires Sunday night, it's salient features were submitted by your correspondent to both Hoke Smith and Dorsey supporters, who agreed that the statements made at that time were facts, and not fancles.

After the article had appeared in print and was in circulation on the streets of this city, your correspondent was besieged by Hoke Smith men making al sorts of lurid claims when it was seen that their beans had been spilled. At that time, in the presence of Hon. Frederick G. Booker, your correspondent challenged any Hoke Smith supporters to show where any misstatement had been made, and if porters to show where any missistatement had been made, and if such existed, your correspondent volunteered to make a signed sworn statement to be published in The Atlanta Journal Monday afternoon to the effect that he had lied maliciously and intentionally. Your correspondent was never requested to place his name on dotted lines to such a telegram.

In justice to Mr. Booker, I did voluntarily bok him up and call his attention to one single sentence of two lines which did misstate his reason for abruptly leaving the court room Thursday morning. This occurred in The Augusta Chronicle and the Macon Telegraph reports. The Atlanta Constitution article being verbatim, as it had been sent from Washington.

The incorrect report appearing in two nargers stated Mr. Booker would be two shows and the southwest part of the country:

from Washington.

The incorrect report appearing in two papers stated Mr. Booker would not put the question, but resigned, leaving the room and refusing to be a party to the trick.

What I said in this connection, and it was absolutely correctly printed in Monday's Constitution, was this: "To the astonishment of those present. Chairman Fred G. Booker, of Hoke Smith forces, would not vote on question, but handed in his resignation and abruptly left room."

Those Hoke Smith supporters who have, at the eleventh hour, shown such ardor in seeking out the truth about the political situation in Wilkes county might have applied their time and their talents to better purpose and certainly with bet-

Bad for Country.

Mr. Moore was the first and also the last witness of the day. When he resumed the stand in the afternoon he said: "Much of my information will be useless and the whole investigation will be also, if the committee thinks Governor Cox's charge is a criticism of the method and plan of the republican drive for funds. I think the plan of spreading the contributions over the country is excellent, but if there is being raised a fund that is $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 more than the republican national committee itself thinks is sufficient, you will agree with me that it would be a bad thing for America, no matter how it is raised."

"We all agree on that," said Senator Kenyon.

The witness and chairman then agreed that the published list announced by Governor Cox in his plitsburg speech was a correct duplication of the quota sheet from which he read on that occasion and that it would not be necessary to put the governor's copy in evidence. Taking up the list, Mr. Moore said Pittsburg's quota was given as $400.00.

H. C. McEldowney, president of the Union Trust company, can give you the information that this is the quota and also tell you how much has been raised," he said. He also said that W. A. Woodfords and Dudley S. Blossom, of Cleveland. Could tell about that city's quota of $400,000 and that Edmund Silver Brand, in charge of the Source of Information.

Senator Spencer tried to learn the sources of Mr. Moore's information and few fire from Senator Reed, who protested against what he termed were attempts to learn of testimony in advance, "so the evidence can be patched up before it is presented here."

Mr. Moore said Frank J. Refler, of Columbus, formerly had charge of raising Cincinnati's reputed quota of $260,000 and that the Indiana "money digger" was Bert Fuller, whom he described as a "personal friend of Will Hays." He said Fuller had also worked in Alabama and North Carolina.

HIS FINAL STATEMENT

Thomson, Ga., September 7.—(Special.)—Thomas E. Watson is at home, following his campaign for the senate, and expresses confidence that he will be nominated. In a public address "to the voters of Georgia," issued today, Mr. Watson admits the Watson-Smith alliance in the conventon of May 18 to discredit the democratic party and defines what the alliance accomplished, as well as the attitude of Senator Smith in that campaign. Among other things, Mr. Watson says:

says: "The May convention was "The May convention was held.
"As everyone knows. Hoke Smith's delegation was the weakest of the three, but, as his delegates stood nearer to mine than mine stood to Palmer's the practical policy of a concert of action between the Watson delegates and the Smith delegates became evident.

"His delegates became evident.
"His delegates, voting with mine, had already condemned the league of nations, Woodrow Wilson's administration." etc.
Again in his address he says: "Consequently, when Hoke smith entered his race for re-election, he was in this posi-election, he was in this position:

"He had condemned the administration; he had condemned the league of nations; he had condemned the department of justice, as administered by Mitchell Paimer, and he had declared himself in favor of the very platform upon which I stood in April, in May AND AT THE PRESENT TIME."

ALEXANDER ADDRESSES

At his concluding speech he said at a point in the southwest part of the country:

"Friends have constantly asked why I do not reply to criticisms made. I do not do so because I am satisfied that the people pay no attention to them. They have their own estimate of the candidates and will act on their own judgment. If they believe I am fit to represent them they will so vote. In such event I shall not only feel deeply honored, but I shall be under the highest sanction to act justly and highest sanction to act justly and moderately."

WILL TEST VALIDITY OF ACT'S PROVISIONS

wilkes county might have applied their time and their talents to better purpose and certainly with better effect in denouncing The Atlanta Journal's maliclous misstatement with reference to this affairbut this is another story. as Rudyard Kipling would say.

before you took the stand that you never got 'from 101' because it was never sent out?"

The witness said Mr. Upham asked him if he had received it and when Mr. McNider replied in the negative the treasurer rejoined:

"I guess not."

Senator Kenyon brought out that thing to the conversation.

The testimony of the state chairman and Mr. Paxton also developed that considerable of the work of raising the campaign fund was done by salaried "state directors" from republican headquarters. Wa. Kling, of California, was named as in charge in Missouri, and Charles Mavity as the field agent for West Virginia, and later for lowa, after Irving Norwood had "quit because of a disagreement with republican headquarters."

But of Country.

Mr. Moore was the first and also

H. C. McEldowney, president of the Union Trust company, can give you the information that this is the quota and also tell you how much has been raised," he said. He also said that W. A. Woodford and Dudley S. Blossom, of Cleveland, could tell about that city's quota of $400,000 and that Edmund Silver Brand, in charge of the Youngstown district, had waved a sheaf of checks before a hotel clerk there and exclaimed:

"This is the way to get the money."

Palmer Floor Leader of State Convention Comes Out for Senator Hoke Smith

General Walter A. Harris, of Macon, is supporting Senator Hoke Smith for re-election. He came out for the Senator in The Macon News Tuesday afternoon.

General Harris was the Chief Floor Leader of the Palmer Delegates at the recent State Convention in Atlanta.

General Harris realizes that Senator Smitk is the most likely candidate to defeat Thomas E. Watson.

Governor Nat E Harris, the General's distinguished father, also came out for Senator Smith in a ringing interview in The Macon News yesterday afternoon.
